Dear Parents and Community members,

Congratulations to everyone who was involved in our fabulous NAIDOC Week celebrations. I have seen the photos and heard the stories and it seems as though our celebrations are not only getting bigger each year, but better!

Early this term, Alma-Bugdlie Preschool was assessed against the national standards. Today, I have been informed that we met expectations in 6 quality areas and received an ‘exceeding’ in the area of leadership. This is a fantastic result and I am very proud of our early childhood team - Auntie Barb Clark, Miss Chelcie Staker, Mrs Gemma Ackerman, Miss Katie Bassett-White, Mrs Christy Roe and Mrs Alison King. Outstanding, ladies!!! Thank you for your hard work over the last year.

Good luck to our netballers and AFL boys for the Gala Day this Friday.

Tomorrow, the South Australian Museum is presenting "Through the Looking Glass". This is a chance for preschool and kindergarten students to listen to traditional Aboriginal stories and view a travelling showcase of artifacts. There is no cost.

School reports will be sent home next week. Teachers will arrange parent/teacher interviews early next term (except Miss Jameson who will hold hers before the end of next week.) *Please return the Parent/Teacher interview notes to the class teacher by this Friday 19th June.

Isn't it nice to see some rain. Have a great week.

Regards
Glynis Lugnan
